Manager Comment

October 2017 was another good month for risk assets. Globally markets were driven by stronger corporate earnings numbers and better than expected economic data. The JSE returned some rather upbeat numbers on the back of the globally coordinated growth as did the rest of emerging markets. Politics remained at the forefront in SA as the fallout around the so-called "state capture" project continued to come to light, but still with no arrests made. The bleak picture Gigaba painted of SA's finances in the Medium Term Budget saw the rand hit an 11-month low against the dollar, before retracing some of these losses and ending the month 4.2% down against the greenback (year to date the local currency is 2.8% weaker).

The MSCI World delivered 1.89% (USD) during the month. MSCI Emerging Markets also had a strong month, delivering 3.51% (USD), continuing the strong global growth from the previous quarter. This means that year to date Emerging Markets have returned 32.49% (USD). Global bonds and Emerging Market bonds were slightly negative at -0.58% (USD) and -0.13% (USD) respectively.

Commodity counters (especially platinum stocks), Naspers and some real estate shares, accounted for the bulk of October's best performers as a much-weaker rand lifted miners and rand-hedge, real estate sector stocks, while market heavyweight, Naspers also recorded good gains. The JSE was up 6.26%, driven by the likes of Lonmin 55.3% and Impala Platinum 26.5% following the rand weakness, Kumba Iron Ore 23.4% on Chinese record imports. Sibanye Gold was up 22.7% on upbeat production data from Q3. African Rainbow Minerals and Group Five recorded gains of 21.6% and 19.4%, respectively. Naspers which accounts for over 20% of the JSE's total market cap hit new record levels with an 18% gain on the back of positive trade in internet giant Tencent in Hong Kong. Within style factors, Value rose 4.40% and Growth increased 7.1%. Bonds sold off (-2.3%), underperforming cash (+0.61%) and SA Property (+1.99%) for the month.

Based on many commentators views of the odds in favour of a credit downgrade by S&P and Moody's in November we will move forward cautiously remaining overweight global equities, Rand hedge equities and property stocks. Local nominal bonds seem attractive on a real yield of close to 4.5% but we will keep a neutral position until the impact of downgrade has been fully digested by the market.
